User end to end
- Possible time allotted to each pomo for new members entering the pomodoro technique
- New users pop up users info part (bold time frames so new users can find this easier)
- Add settings section to info page
- On pencil add little hover that says "change name"
- Halved screen weird how start my day and add task was the same size
- Liked design
- Everything on the page says session but the task list says start my day. Maybe change to start my session/other word
- In task list: gage on how many tomatoes
  - Green instead of red instead.
  - Liked the change, but confused at first look (possibly make uniform)

Development
- Possibly change from github pages to firebase deployment instead.
- Workflow looks the same as almost every other team

Next Steps:
- Info page popup when user enters name for first time
- Tooltips for edit name
- Change 'day' to 'session'
- Change tasklist to all green tomatoes